Step 3: Make sure that you are allowing pop-ups. You get pop-up notifications differently. You need to ALLOW pop-ups from College Board. If given the option to remember or save that option, it is a good idea to do so.

Step 4: You will be taken to the Khan Academy homepage. While you can access this in different ways, please follow the steps above. It allows you to transfer your PSAT scores more easily.

You can log-in if you have a Khan Academy account or you can sign-up.

To register, you must use a GMAIL, Facebook, or other email. You cannot use Facebook at school, so this is a bad option. The other two are better options. You can use your school email or personal email. Just remember which you used.

Step 5: As you login, you will be asked to create a username and password.

The screenshot shows a sign-up form titled "Start learning on Khan Academy" with a close button (X) in the top right corner. The form contains the following fields: "First name" and "Last name" (two separate input boxes), "Username" and "Password" (two separate input boxes), "Email" (one input box), and "Birthdate" (three dropdown menus for month, day, and year). Below the fields is a prominent green "Sign up" button and a smaller green "Go back" link. At the bottom, there is a small disclaimer: "By clicking 'Sign up', you agree to our Terms of Service and Privacy Policy."

Step 6: Once you are in, you will be asked 2 questions.

You will be asked which assessment you would like practice for. If you are importing scores, select A. If you are looking to take the diagnostic test, select B. (Caution: The diagnostic takes a considerable amount of time.)

The screenshot shows a screen titled "Question 1 of 2". The text asks: "Have you already taken the SAT, PSAT/NMSQT®, PSAT 10, or PSAT 8/9?" Below this, there are two paragraphs of explanatory text. The first paragraph says: "If so, we can start by practicing what you missed on your test." The second paragraph says: "If not, no worries! Our diagnostic quizzes and practice tests will figure out what you should practice first." There are two radio button options: "A Yes, I have taken the SAT, PSAT/NMSQT®, PSAT 10, OR PSAT 8/9." and "B No, I haven't taken any of these tests yet." At the bottom of the screen is a decorative illustration of a desk with a laptop, a lamp, a pair of headphones, and some books.

If you have a College Board account, select A. Your scores will import into Khan Academy. The diagnostic option (B) takes time. This would be better for students who missed the PSAT.
